On Plates of Gold.
Why Fighting is Responsible.

Whiskey, Champion Criminal.

One hundred years ago Joseph Smith, prophet, founded the "Church of Jesus Christ, of Latter Day Saints." He received from Heaven gold plates, mysteriously engraved, and from them, divinely guided, translated the Book of Mormon.

At least, that's his story. His followers say it should be questioned by Christians that accept a similar story from Moses, about the tablets of the law.

Those that wisely respect all religions, especially in the churches that have come over Mormonism, still full of vitality after 100 years. Joseph Smith made a particular virtue of many wives for one man—as did also King Solomon, by the way.

Modern Mormonism, rallying under the purple, blue and gold banner "Cumorah-Ramah," says, "one wife is enough." That does not mean repudiating Joseph Smith. Many good Christians tone down Jonah and the whale, knowing that the earth is round, do not insist that the four corners actually stood at the four corners of the earth. All life is a compromise.

A lady asks why the Dempsey-Tyrpe fight is allowed. "Once," says she, "prize fighters had to abide away in barns, like dog fighters. Now they have the police to keep order for them while they knock each other down. How can you explain that?"

Easily. A big prize fight now is worth two million dollars to the promoters. That makes it RESPECTABLE.

The owner of a little gambling house must hide away. The owners of a stock or produce exchange, where they let millions, is respectable and protected. We have our weaknesses in this country, but we do show respect for anything above one million.

One single IDEA might be worth three hundred billions—for instance, an idea supplying men with unlimited free power from sun or tides.

There are many times three hundred billions worth of wealth below the earth in mines, oil, gas, coal, and in the earth's thin crop producing carpet of soil.

There are more than three hundred billion dollars' worth of nitrogen in the air above us. This is a rich country, but we need more people, and instead of encouraging them to come in, we foolishly keep them out.

Henry Ford is studying a better kind of boat to carry freight and passengers. If he produces it, he will add billions to the nation's wealth. The height of mechanical folly is carrying, on pounding rails and wheels, freight that ought to glide, without friction or wear, along thousands of miles of canals and rivers.

To enjoy a good headache, read Sir Ernest Rutherford, great British scientist, on the atom. A thousand atoms in the corner of your eye wouldn't bother you. You wouldn't know they were there.

ST. CLOUD BAND TO GIVE CONCERTS VERY SOON.

Local Organization Will Need About $700 from Public Spirited Citizens to Continue Season.

The St. Cloud band has reached a stage in organization that insured regular concerts for the entire winter season, if the public spirited citizens of St. Cloud and the music-loving visitors add to a small extent financially for the six months season that concerts are to last.

On Tuesday evening, October 16 the band has arranged to play for the public at the corner of Eleventh street and New York avenue, and the regular program of concerts will start shortly thereafter.

In the meantime, to provide funds for band expenses it will be necessary to raise by private subscription something like $700 to carry through the program until next April. This small sum will no doubt be sent in readily by local music-lovers and by the good St. Cloud boosters that spend the winter months in this city.

The band is being assisted in every way by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, and persons who will help to make the band program a success are urged to send in their pledges at once. Use the blank below.

OFFICIAL VISIT GRAND MATRON

Tuesday evening of this week was the occasion of the official visitation of Mrs. Alma T. Oglesby, Grand Matron of Order Eastern Star of Florida, to St. Cloud Chapter No. 46, and this meeting is one that will be long remembered by members of the order who were in attendance.

The meeting opened with a banquet at the Badger Cafe honoring the Grand Matron, at 6:30 o'clock. Special music for the occasion furnished by an augmented orchestra, added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment.

Following the banquet, the members proceeded to the Chapter Room in the G. A. R. Hall, where the work of the degrees of the order was exemplified in a very pleasing manner which brought forth praise from the Grand Matron.

The address of the Grand Matron was a rare treat and the thoughts she presented no doubt lodged in the hearts and minds of the members and will be remembered throughout the years to come. Following her address the Grand Matron was made an honorary member of St. Cloud Chapter No. 46, and Mrs. George, past matron of the Chapter presented her with a token of remembrance from the Chapter.

The attendance was large, there being present members from Chapters at Kissimmee, Orlando, Aron Park, and others and the meeting was a brilliant success from every standpoint.

SWEETEST GIRL IN DIXIE PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Friday evening of last week the people of St. Cloud had an occasion for the enjoyment of a most delightful evening's entertainment, when the Drama Players of Kissimmee, under the direction of Mr. William Triplett, produced the pleasing little drama, "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie". The house was well filled with an appreciative audience, and every minute of the play was enjoyed thoroughly.

The character parts were all Kissimmee young people except Mr. and Mrs. Triplett, and each played their part well.

The members of the Kissimmee band which furnished the orchestra for the occasion, rendered a delightful program in connection with the show. Mr. Triplett promises to play a return engagement with another pleasing bill at another date.

OKLAHOMA PEOPLE HAVE GIVEN MANDATE TO LEGISLATURE TO MEET

With Practically One-Fourth of State Board from at Late Hour is Indicated That Amendment to Open Way for Solons to Consider Walton's Official Record Is Victorious By Biggest Majority in Any Oklahoma Election.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 2.—With virtually one-fourth of the state board from at a late hour, it was indicated that a constitutional amendment to open the way for the state legislature to consider the official record of Governor J. C. Walton had swept to victory with the greatest majority ever recorded in an election in Oklahoma.

Overwhelming Victory.

Late returns from country districts in Oklahoma's special election today continued to emphasize the overwhelming victory of opponents of Gov. J. C. Walton, who sponsored a constitutional amendment authorizing the state legislature to convene by its own call to consider the official acts of state officers.

At midnight with virtually half the

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROVIDED WITH FUNDS BY BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

When the Board of County Commissioners met last Monday there were quite a number of representative citizens from the county on hand, and after discussing the question of use of the publicity funds of the county, the board agreed to divide the publicity fund between the Kissimmee and St. Cloud Chambers of Commerce to the extent of $1,000 in each organization, a certain portion to be used to assist the bands of each city.

When the meeting was called to order there were present: E. L. D. Overstreet, chairman, and Commissioners, A. F. Bass, Henry Partin and R. V. Phillips, together with J. I. Overstreet, clerk and Pat Johnston, attorney for the board.

The first delegation to address the board was composed of Mrs. M. P. Foster and Mrs. Blanche Wells, representing the Parent-Teachers Association of St. Cloud, who asked for assistance for the lunch room work at the local school. The board voted to give $50 to apply on house rent for this purpose.

Earl Lipper then asked the board to make some provisions to pay bills for groceries for Dr. and Mrs. McCarthy who had gotten in such shape that help was given last month, but not sufficient for their needs. He reported that arrangements had been made for provisions after this time but that a bill of $32.55 should be paid. Which was agreed to.

WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION HELD LARGE MEETING, SEPT. 21ST

A. RUTH ANNABLE.

A large attendance of the W. C. T. U. was held Friday Sept. 21st at the pleasant home of Nurse Williams, who kindly drove several of the members who lived at a distance and had no car of their own. Her house was artistically decorated for the occasion and a banner bearing the word WELCOME displayed on the front porch gave pleasant greeting to the guests sixty three in number including several honorary members and Mrs. Mary Bower, the District President of Osceola County. Meeting was called to order by Mrs. Smith all joining in singing "The World is Going Dry". Mrs. Jennie Ward conducted evangelistic services reading a chapter of Scripture. Dr. Kelsey, (who was for many years a missionary in Japan and is now a resident of St. Cloud) led in prayer, this was followed by singing "Some Glad Days". The chair then made a motion that the roll call and current events be omitted, voted and carried.

Mrs. Ward (treasurer pro-tem) reported thirty three dollars in the year he arranged for the next year.

Collection taken amounted to $3.31. The President called for Dr. Foster, who greeted the Union with kindly words of praise and then in her gracious manner introduced Mayor Parker who was enthusiastically welcomed as speaker for the hour his subject being "How Should We keep the Sabbath?"

He began his discourse by saying he was glad to be an honorary member of the W. C. T. U. and happy to act with this organization in any work for God and Country as he believed in fighting evil in any and every place where it was found. He sincerely regretted the Sabbath desecration and other evils of the present day and regretted the fact that the young people were slipping away from the church and also from the good influence of their parents. He believed the parents were in a measure to blame for this condition as they were always in such a hurry they seemed to have no time to devote to the home training of the children. He mentioned the fact that schoolteachers did not have the influence for good that they once had over the young.

Mayor Parker spoke of the good laws in the state of Florida if only a way could be found to enforce those laws.

He advised great kindness and forbearance in the homes and following the Scripture advice "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it".

Closing he recommended a revival wave of religion in the churches and preaching the old fashioned religion as the only remedy and the only way to safeguard the children.

Mrs. John Ward introduced Mrs. Mary Boyer who expressed pleasure at meeting so many members of St. Cloud Union, and her appreciation of the good work done but declared there should be four hundred members in the Osceola district by another year. She advised a Temperance Rally and said we must have the young people interested and working for temperance. A Local Temperance Union should be organized at once.

She also suggested a band of Temperance Light Bearers among the little folk and suggested that the high school students be secured to help in the work among the young people, and last she advised that the Cigarette law be enforced in St. Cloud.

Mrs. King of Kissimmee, gave a clear and forceful short talk on the narcotic habit and the effect of the same on those who acquired this habit.

This closed the program and a ringing vote of thanks was given to Nurse Williams who had worked so diligently to make this the banner meeting of the year.

Mrs. Williams responded by directing the guests thru the several rooms to the dining room where refreshments were prepared for them. A large white cake decorated with the letters W. C. T. U. centered the long table and dainty angel food cakes along the side of the table held dainty bouquets of lily and frans which made a pleasing as well as inviting picture. A pleasant social hour was much enjoyed. One new member added to the union, and an invitation received from Dr. Mary Packet Foster to hold the next meeting October fifth in her rooms. This was eagerly accepted.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO REMAIN IN QUARTERS ON NEW YORK AVENUE

The question of location for the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce for the next year was the special order of business at the noon day lunch yesterday, the body having been asked to consider occupying half of the proposed addition to the G. A. R. hall to be erected on Eleventh street, but after quite a discussion the Chamber of Commerce on motion of G. A. Bleech decided to remain in their same quarters for another year if the same arrangements prevail with the owners that have been enjoyed for the past year.

S. W. Porter made an extensive report of what had been accomplished by the local board and stated that concerts for the season would start at an early date. The need of more funds was emphasized in his report.

Reports that Hollingsworth & Gessford would have the materials on hand for the pavilion to be erected by the park committee of the Chamber of Commerce, resulted in a meeting of that committee being held just after the lunch was completed. E. W. Porter was named to represent the committee in supervising the construction of the new building and P. E. Morgan was selected to "Boss" the builders and lay out the plans.

John Collins is to lay off the location on the park grounds for the building and city teams are to haul the materials to the park.

The matter of having mail brought to the city from Kissimmee early each morning was discussed, but Postmaster Johnston reported that he had taken this matter up with the post-office department and no action was taken by the meeting.

Various matters for the general good of the city were discussed throughout the noon hour.

THIRTEEN-YEAR OLD SCHOOL GIRL BREAKS NECK IN FALL FROM TRUCK

Jettie Sellers, aged 13, was instantly killed this morning about eight o'clock when she fell from a truck on which she was riding with her father and another one of the Sellers children, on their way to school at Kissimmee. The family lives near Buggy Creek, on the north side of East Lake Tohopekaliga, and having started to the road to meet the school bus were given an opportunity of riding on a truck that came along earlier, driven by Jimmie Howard of the same neighborhood. Mr. Sellers and two children accepted the early ride. When the bus reached a point near the county home about two miles east of Kissimmee, little Jettie fell from the truck, breaking her neck. Physicians were called, but stated that death was instantaneous. The body was turned over to J. W. Thompson of Kissimmee for preparation for burial.

ANIMOSITY RULES EUROPE.

Nations at Each Other's Throats. Hatred of U. S. Dominant. Conditions in America Best in History. Says Tamm Back from Three Months' Tour.

Col. Peter O. Knight, his wife and son, Peter O., Jr., returned from a three months' tour of Europe Saturday morning. Judging by the appearance of the family, they must have been very much benefited by the trip.

Mr. Knight said that while he enjoyed the trip the greatest part of the pleasure was in comparing conditions of the United States with those of Europe, and that in doing so he loved America more than he ever had before, and that he did not feel as if he ever cared to make a trip to Europe again. Mr. Knight said:

"We visited France, Spain and Italy thoroughly. I have been to Europe a number of times before. I did not go for sight-seeing but mainly for the purpose of studying conditions, especially in France and Italy. The thing that struck me most was the difference between conditions now in these countries and before the World war. It is my deliberate opinion, based upon conversations with various persons in every direction, that France, Italy and Spain are more prosperous than they ever have been in their history. I saw no evidence of unemployment, distress or poverty anywhere. Conditions in those three countries, relatively, are just about as they are here—high wages and no unemployment.

General Animosity

"The thing that distressed me most, however, was to find the animosity as expressed by the individuals of each nation against the other nations. All nations in Europe are at each other's throats and Europe is an armed camp. While France claims she is unable to pay interest upon her indebtedness to the United States, and declines to say when, if ever, she will pay the interest or principal, she is maintaining a standing army of eight hundred thousand men, two hundred thousand more than the standing army of Germany before the World War, is able to lend money to Poland, Roumania, Czechoslovakia, and has completed her restoration work so that there is very little evidence of any devastation caused by the war in France.

"The thing that impressed me most in traveling about and in undertaking to study conditions in Europe was to realize the utter absurdity and futility of the United States endeavoring to adjust the political and controversial troubles of the European nations. We do not understand the people of those nations and they do not understand us. And although we spent, during the war, thirty-six billions of dollars, ten billion dollars more than it cost to operate our government from its birth until 1914, and although we lost one hundred and seventy-five thousand men—and God knows how many died in consequence of the war—and although we withdrew from the conflict without requesting any compensation of any kind or character and although we have not received a cent of interest on the billions of dollars and have added upon this nation a debt of some twenty billion dollars, including the governmental expenditures now in excess of five billion dollars annually five times greater than the national debt of the United States prior to the war, I did not find a single solitary Frenchman, outside of the protestations of his diplomats, who was willing to give the United States credit for anything it did during the war. And with the above staggering facts it is difficult to listen with patience to the international bankers, sentimentalists, half-baked theorists, and propagandists that are talking now about our duty to Europe.

Washington's Warning

"Washington, in his farewell address, continued this nation against foreign entanglements. He said: 'I have no objection to your going to war, but I object to your staying there.'"

"I am not sure, however, that I stand upon foreign ground. Why, I, interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalry, interest, humors or caprices? These words are so applicable to the present situation that they might have been uttered yesterday. These views of Washington have been the views of very president of the United States since, down to Wilson. Jefferson bluntly said: 'Commercial and friendly relations with all nations; political with none.' It has been this policy followed by our government since its inception that has made it the greatest nation on this earth, great in education, religion, arts, charity, invention, finance, and power. There is no other nation in its class. And yet Europe secretly despises us. It thinks that we are the product of the sterility of Europe; that, while we are a wonderful people in a commercial sense, we lack all of the refinements of life—European culture."

"And the thing that also surprised me was the animosity of feeling upon the part of Americans who visited Europe this summer. I found none in Europe or coming back from Europe on the boat but that shared my views."

Not to Cancel Debts

"Europe should be told emphatically by our government what the views of the American people are. At least 85 per cent of them. It should be told that we do not intend to cancel the indebtedness that the European nations owe us; that we do not expect to play possum to their situation; and that we expect them to settle their own differences. When they settle their differences, you will see a different situation in Europe, in my opinion. And such an emphatic declaration is the best thing that could happen for the peace of the world. And I predict that if the next political alliance between this country and the nations of Europe, will see the party receive as great a licking as it did in the last presidential campaign."

"Length upon this subject, but it is not necessary that I should do so. And of course I have no interest in the matter except that of any other citizen."

"When asked what he thought about conditions in the United States, Mr. Knight said, 'I have no patience with anyone who finds fault with present conditions. This country is fundamentally stronger than it ever has been in its history. The banks are in better condition than they ever have been. Wages are high. I hope they will continue so; there is no unemployment anywhere. It is difficult for manufacturers to make decisions and difficult for the transportation companies to carry the commodities that are being produced in this country. When it is known that there are twenty-five million families in the United States and there are thirty million savings accounts, more than one savings account in every family; and that there are thirteen million automobiles, more than one automobile to every two families, how can anyone ask what are conditions in the United States?'"

Expects Wonderful Winter

"So far as Florida is concerned it is just commencing to grow. It is the most magnificent spot on this earth, with the best climate and the most wonderful possibilities and you will see an unprecedented winter. This I am told by all the tourist agencies and railroad agents that I talked to in New York City."

"Asked more or less hesitatingly if he cared to say anything about the local campaign, Mr. Knight, with a broad smile, said, 'No, except that I am rather pleased on coming back after a three months' tour of Europe, with the ocean and thousands of miles between Tampa and where I was touring to find that I am considered such an important factor in the community as that I am made an issue in the campaign. I imagine,' said Mr. Knight, 'that the public corporations of Tampa would all be in the hands of a receiver if I were not living, and probably all my clients in the poorhouse. Certainly Mr. Carlton is endeavoring to show how essential I am to their best interests. It has been such friends as he that have been my greatest asset in Florida. No, that is all I care to say about it.'"

SPECIAL CITRUS REPORT

Production of Citrus Fruits in Florida for the season of 1923-24 is estimated at twenty millions boxes. Of this total, about twelve million boxes will be oranges and eight million boxes grapefruit.

Last season the commercial crop totaled 16,000,000 boxes, of which about 9,000,000 boxes were oranges and 7,000,000 grapefruit.

The outstanding features of the crop for 1923-24 are:—the heavily loaded orange trees all over the belt and the light crop of grapefruit on trees and groves which were full last season. The crop differs from last season's in the fact that practically all fruit is from early bloom while fruit from early bloom was light last season. Following the dry spring and early summer, and a large part of the crop was matured from the heaviest late bloom ever known in the State.

HELPFUL HINTS

Mrs. Housewife: This newspaper will publish "Helpful Hints" in this form at regular intervals. We suggest you clip this column and paste it in your recipe book.

Squeezing Fruit—If one will warm a lemon before squeezing it, about twice as much juice will be had.

Flannels—Never rub soap on flannels—it will shrink them. Instead, wash them in a soap jelly, and use even that gently. Do not iron wet—or with a very hot iron.

Stains on Zinc—Vinegar will remove stains from the zinc tops of kitchen tables.

Washing Windows—A little starch put in the clear warm water with which you wash windows will make them clearer. When dry, rub and polish with a cloth.

Nose Bleeds. There are various ways of stopping nose bleeds, but one of the most common and effective is this. Put a roll of paper under the upper lip—between the lip and gum. If this fails apply cold at the back of the neck. A key or cloth wrung out in cold water in good.

Cut Flowers may be kept a long while if a piece of green camphor is put in the vase of water.

Iceing may be prevented by dusting with corn starch.

Fire. If by chance your clothes have caught fire remember never to run, as that will fan the flames and make them worse. Lie down on the floor and roll up as tightly as possible in a shawl, rug, or any woolen clothing, leaving the head out. If nothing is available lie down on the floor, rolling over slowly and at the same time beating the flames with the hands.

Hair—If the ends of the hair are clipped with a shears once every three or four months, it will help the growth of the hair and prevent its splitting.

Rough Hands—If your hands have become rough or chapped try this for a remedy. Three ounces white wine vinegar, three ounces lemon juice and a half a pint of white brandy. This used long enough will remedy the trouble.

Etiquette

What & When to do it
By A. Leda

All questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to A. Leda, care of this newspaper.

DEAR A. LEDA: What are the words that R. S. V. stand for? A friend told me that this expression was not used much today. If that is true, what takes its place? Thank you.

A. READER

"R. S. V. P. are French words. Respondez si vous plait, which means, 'answer if you please.' Your friend was correct in saying it is rarely used on invitations now. The reason is, that people are supposed to have the politeness to answer invitations without having to be asked to. However, one would drop a hint: 'It might be put this way: "Kindly send response to . . . . ."' and then give the address.

DEAR A. LEDA: (1) Is one expected to send a written acceptance for an afternoon tea or "at home" card? (2) If one cannot attend should calling cards be sent? If so, how many.

Mrs. E. L.

(1) No. (2) Yes. If it is impossible to put in an appearance at the affair, a visiting card should be put in an envelope and sent to the hostess. Try and have it arrive while the tea is in progress. This may be done by the services of a messenger or by post. (3) A husband and wife if unable to appear would each send a card. If a hostess and a daughter are giving the reception two cards each are sent.

DEAR A. LEDA:

(1) What should be done if one drops his fork at dinner? How should celery be salted?

A. V. R.

If there is a servant allow her to pick it up. Otherwise do so yourself, unless there is a gentleman beside you, in which case he will do it. After a word of apology to the hostess continue as if nothing had happened. (2) Put some salt on the edge of the butter plate, then take the stalk of celery, touching one end lightly in the salt and bite it off.

It is just as possible for a country newspaper of limited circulation and influence to have high ideals as a powerful metropolitan paper.

If in doubt use CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

the next time you bake—give it just one honest and fair trial. One test in your own kitchen will prove to you that there is a big difference between Calumet and any other brand—that for uniform and wholesome baking it has no equal.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

OKLAHOMA'S LITTLE KAISER

The action of Governor Walton of Oklahoma in putting a military censor into the editorial rooms of the Tulsa Tribune is a final brazen assault on liberty of the press that should arouse every newspaper published from coast to coast to action to the end that we may bring quickly to close the growing grip of officialism over public expression. The insolent inroads made in different states, with the reader end in view, getting a grip on the throat of the publisher have grown so bold that the news of the professional model set up any time notice if it is to preserve itself. In some quarters the assault is carefully camouflaged under the cloak of reform, but it is none the less dangerous.

The Tulsa Tribune, leading newspaper of the state, saw fit to criticize the conduct of the Oklahoma Governor. The result of the Governor's activities was published in a series of articles entitled "The Story of Walton." Quite apart from the merits or demerits of the Governor's attitude on public matters the right of the newspaper to take a position on the operations of the chief executive remains unquestionable. If in "The Story of Walton" there were justified anything untruthful anything libelous the publisher stood responsible under the law. Seemingly, however, the Governor, dressed in his little brief authority was not satisfied with the protection afforded him by the courts. He must take the law into his own hands and recreate it to suit his particular desires, and the local Ku Klux situation afforded what he regarded as a plausible excuse. Putting Tulsa county under martial law Governor Walton placed a military censor in the newspaper office to suppress from publication anything which in the judgment of the official footman might "incite to riot." Obviously any published fact which tended to expose the spirit of dictatorship on the part of the Governor "might" incite to riot, so that "The Story of Walton" necessarily fell under the official frown. Here is censorship gone mad.

If Waltonism is allowed to stand then Oklahoma is about ready for another Boston Tea Party. When the governor of a state can take a strangle hold on the throat of the press, when the newspaper can be proscribed and crushed under the heel of a Kaiser the constitution under which we have lived and under which this great nation has developed might as well be torn into scraps of paper and a new system of government set up.

The plain fact is the whole system of censorship is dangerous to liberty and diametrically opposed to the American form of government. It combines the very three elements of rule the fathers so sedulously sought to segregate—the legislative, the judicial and the executive. It undermines the moral fibre of our legislators providing for them a vehicle of excuse for failure to stand up and be counted on public issues. Also let it not be forgotten it becomes a burden on the already overloaded taxpayer which he can ill afford to bear. Governor Walton shows to what extent under its rule it is possible to maintain reasonable liberty.

Walton symbolizes the public men in action. Posing as the champion of the people's rights he strips them of their most valued possession, the freedom of expression, and places them in shackles. Men like Walton in our judgment should be kicked out of office and the newspapers should see that it is done.

Farmers who make no effort to have flowers about their homes should remember that he who would make an impression endeavors to kick his best.

NEW USES FOR WOOD BEING REVEALED BY CHEMISTRY

Chemical research is revealing new uses for wood that were not dreamed of a few years ago, declares the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. One example given is that of the extended use of pulp wood not only for paper products but also for fiber containers, wallboard, and similar forms of material. Wood is already in use for the making of artificial silk, rope, caskets and other fabrics.

Because of this great progress in the department declares it to be all the more necessary to treat the country's forests as crop lands rather than as timber means with no thought of replacement.

WHAT CAN BE MADE FROM MILK

Some interesting figures have been compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture to show what can be made from a definite quantity of milk. Using 100 pounds of milk which tests 4 per cent, it has been found that this quantity will make about 4.8 pounds of butter, 11 pounds of Cheddar cheese, 45 fifteen-ounce cans of condensed milk, 125 pounds of whole-milk powder, 8.5 pounds of Swiss cheese, or 23 pounds of Camembert cheese. The exact amounts of these products that can be made from 100 pounds of milk varies with the richness of the milk in fat and other solids. A number of by-products are also formed by the different processes.

More than a 50 per cent reduction in the amount of freight claims for loss and damage was made in 1922 compared to 1921. Instead of the $86,700,000 paid out in 1921, only $48,050,000 was paid during 1922. The Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture gets credit for a share of these savings due to their work in improving methods of boxing and crating. The educational work in introducing the better practices was stimulated by the American Railway Association, which conducts a bulletin service giving causes of losses and how they may be corrected or minimized.

The chief advantage of the late potato over its earlier brethren is its keeping quality which permits its sale and use all winter and through the early summer the following year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. This involves special methods. The whole question of successful late-potato marketing can be summed up under four heads, according to department workers. They are: (1) Careful planning from planting time to day of sale; (2) full use of crop and market news; (3) good handling, grading and loading; and (4) readiness to learn from the methods of other potato growing sections.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? St. Cloud people recommend Dean's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger of merit?

Sam Milburn, retired carpenter, Massachusetts Ave., St. Cloud, says: "I served four years in the Civil War and the poor drinking water and had food put my kidneys in bad condition. Colds settled on my kidneys and I had attacks of kidney complaint. At times I couldn't get out of a chair without bracing my arms on the chair, such terrible pains took me in the small of my back. My kidneys acted frequently, getting me up during the night and the secretions were highly colored. I had severe pains in the back of my head. I used Kidney Pills bought at Marine's Drug Store and they quickly rid me of the backache and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Milburn had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Mrs. Beulah Thomson was pleasantly surprised at her home in Missouri avenue Saturday September 29th, by a goodly number of neighbors and friends who came at noon with well filled baskets and hearty good wishes to share a picnic lunch with her, the occasion being her eighty fifth birthday.

She joyously entered into the spirit of the hour in her usual vivacious manner, (the Mrs. Thomson is still young in spirit and supple in body, doing all her household duties carefully and enjoying raising beautiful flowers and tending her garden and lawn). After the teakettle boiled all joined in singing "Blessed be the Tie that Binds". Mrs. Thomson said Grace and the beautiful luncheon was partaken of with much enjoyment and satisfaction. Birthdays are not so often celebrated in this manner. The presentation speech was very tender and comforting. Mrs. Thomson responded with a few grateful words expressing her heartfelt thanks, after which she was requested to recite one of the many good poems she has learned in recent years. This she did to the delight of all present.

Mrs. Thomson has a strong voice and a wonderful gift of elocution and memories quickly, never having had any training or spoken in public until she was eighty years old.

The poem she recited seemed so like her personality that those present felt the words must be her very own, and will long be remembered by her neighbors who on leaving wished her many happy returns of this very happy birthday.

THE WORLD THAT I AM PASSING THROUGH.

(Recited by Mrs. Beulah Thomson, on her 85 birthday.)

Few, in the days of early youth
Trusted like me, to love and truth,
I've learned and lessons, in the years,
Slowly but sure with many tears
Yet God made me to kindly view
The world that I am passing through.

How little did I once believe
That kindly words could ere deceive
Or patience, and forbearance long,
Meet with ingratitude and wrong.
I could not help but kindly view
The world that I was passing through.

Through weary conflicts I have passed
And entered into rest at last,
Sweet rest, for when the rack had broke

A joint, or nerve, at every stroke,
The wish survives, to kindly view
The world that I am passing through.

From all that fate has brought to me
I strive to learn humility,
And trust in Him who rules above,
Whose universal law is love,
Thus only can I kindly view
The world that I am passing through.

When I approach the setting sun
And I feel my journey nearly done,
May earth be veiled in genial light
And her last smile to me seem bright,
Help me till then to kindly view
The world that I am passing through.

And all who tempt a trusting heart
From faith and hope to drift apart,
May they, as I, be spared the pain
Of losing heart to trust again,
God help us all to kindly view
The world that we are passing through.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CITY LICENSES ISSUED

Crosses Atlantic
in 30 ft. Boat

Alain J. Gerhardt, French tennis star, left France April 5, alone in a 30-foot boat. For 142 days, battling storms, fever, thirst and hunger, he sailed West, arriving at New York September 17. His feat is history in ocean sailing. He was often without sleep three and four days at a time. Now he says he will sail the Pacific.

MAKES FIRST ONE-MAN
VOYAGE ACROSS ATLANTIC

Frenchman Battles Storms, Hunger, Thirst and Illness in 142 Day Trip from Gibraltar to New York

New York, Sept. 27.—Some place beneath the name of Columbus in the marine hall of fame, must be recorded the name of Alain J. Gerhardt, Laval, France, 1923. The 29-year-old Frenchman sailed into New York Harbor this week in a thirty-foot sail boat—the first man ever to cross the Atlantic alone in such a small wind-driven craft.

For 142 days, battling storms, hunger, thirst and illness Gerhardt kept a spark of confidence burning. He sailed from Gibraltar April 5 and arrived in New York September 17. With the cup of victory still at his lips, he paused to say, "—and now to cross the Pacific."

Alain J. Gerhardt is a soldier of fortune. When two friends at Paris doubted his assertion that the Atlantic could be sailed by one man in a 30-foot boat, he decided to show them.

Gerhardt is the fifth ranking tennis player of France and has contested in international matches. During the war, as a French aviator, he is credited with bringing down ten German planes. Only Alain and a brother remain of the Gerhardt family. They own a lime factory at Laval, France. The brother is the business man.

"Just call me a sailor," said Gerhardt here this morning. "The sea is my home—and I'll soon be heading out across the Pacific. Hazardous? I don't think so. You always pull through somehow, if you handle your boat like a sailor should."

Veteran mariners declare Gerhardt's feat one of the most daring and unique in the annals of the sea. Ninety-seven days he was out of sight of land, tossed about on mountainous waves in a boat whose deck dipped water when four men crowded onto her after he docked here Monday.

Battled Great Storm

Forty-eight hours he lay sprawled in the bunk of his tiny cabin, unconscious from a fever which struck him down during a gale which battered the little craft sweeping her deck clean of rigging and flooding the cabin or so fast of cabin space.

Twenty-four days he battled the fury of the Atlantic which broke his bowsprit, loosened his mast and ripped his sails—a storm which reached cyclonic heights and was reported some weeks ago at the time by incoming transatlantic liners.

Provisions he'd stocked for a 100-day trip ran low two weeks from New York because of delay by ter-

Purposes of Citrus
SALES Agencies

Florida's citrus crops are now marketed by two score and more fruit selling organizations. Each operates independently of the others. Each is conducted for a particular purpose.

Briefly, they can be classified into three groups: The privately-owned agency which buys fruit outright from the grower; the privately-owned agency which sells fruit for a commission; and the grower-owned co-operative marketing organization of the more than one hundred associations of the Florida Citrus Exchange.

The fruit buyer gives the grower as little as he can for his crop. He buys it on speculation, to sell it at a profit. If he pays the grower too much one year, he recovers next season by paying him less. The grower must make a profit out of the grower's fruit.

Similarly the privately-owned selling agency operates to make profit; to be able to pay dividends to its stockholders. If its selling charge retained from the sale of fruit went to actual marketing expenses, the agency would not be able to exist. It must make profit out of its selling charge, even though it must spend less than it should for the profitable marketing of fruit to be able to do so.

Neither of these types is in any way controlled by the growers. Both speculate in selling the grower's fruit, often flooding markets and causing lower prices. Neither of these two classes of agencies is obligated to develop new citrus markets, or equipped to win new consumers for Florida fruit, so as to provide profitable outlet for the producer's increasing crops. Should hard times beset the citrus industry, they are not obligated to continue to handle the grower's fruit. When there is no profit in fruit selling, they can always desert the farmer.

The Florida Citrus Exchange, representing a third type of agency, operates to sell the fruit for the grower at the highest possible price and to return to him every penny of profit made in each transaction. It can do business in this way because it is owned and controlled by the growers it serves. In this service it is continually endeavoring to establish orderly marketing and to stabilize prices. In protecting the interests of its grower-members, it must work to develop new markets, create new consumer demand, provide outlets for larger production of citrus fruit and maintain profitable prices for the producer. It can be relied upon by the grower in times of need, for it is the grower's own organization, and absolutely subject to his commands.

The fruit buyers and commission concerns operate to make money out of the grower.

The Florida Citrus Exchange operates to make money for the grower.

There are six thousand Florida growers regularly selling their fruit through the Florida Citrus Exchange. You, too, can join this co-operative movement, get the full price your fruit sells for on the market and wield an influence in the upbuilding and stabilization of your industry. Communicate with the Tampa office of the Florida Citrus Exchange, or any affiliated sub-exchange or association, for further information.

FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE

rifle miles while beating his way across the southern portion of the Atlantic. Two-thirds of his water spoiled and was cast overboard, poisoned by the wood in the newly made keels.

Two weeks ago, when craved by thirst and lack of food he was hailed by a great ocean liner bound for New York, which wanted to pick him up—or at least tow him in. He thanked the captain but refused. Victory was in sight. He was given provisions and left to his fate.

Never Thought of Failure.

Lost hope? Not this sailorman Gerhardt!

"During the height of that twenty-four day storm my mast was battered loose, my bowsprit broken and I was drenched to the skin, which brought about the fever, but I always figured that if the worst should happen—the mast toppling—I'd rig up something with a sail and put in for nearest land, Bermuda. The twenty-fifth day, about the middle of July, however, the storm subsided and I continued for New York. I rebuilt the bowsprit, tightened the mast, mended the rigging and sailed on. I knew I'd reach New York somehow."

Coming over he wore only heavy woolen trousers, a slippery sweater, no socks or shoes. Since April 5, when he started his trip from Gibraltar, he had been barefooted. Doesn't like any kind of footwear while handling his boat.

Use a cake of soap to its last bit. Moisten the thin piece of good soap and the new cake, press them tightly together, and set them aside to dry for a few hours.

SIXTEEN MILLION CARS IN 1925?
Number of Cars in U. S. Show
Inevitability of National Highways.

Three hundred motor cars were registered in the United States in 1895. In 1923, thirty years after, the number will be in excess of 16,000,000.

This is not a prophecy, but a continuation of a jangle of registrations. In the ten years from 1913 to date, the table of motor car registrations in hundred thousands reads as follows: 12, 17, 24, 33, 51, 61, 73, 91, 104, 123.

It is hardly prophecy to say that the next two years will show figures of 140 and 160 hundred thousand, or 14,000,000 and 16,000,000 cars registered.

It is inevitable that these cars have more and more good roads to run upon. If this number of wheeled vehicles congest our few hundred thousand miles of good roads, it is obvious that a great number will compel more and more hard-surface highways.

Opposition to good roads comes from two sources; the ignorance of tax payers, who think that the bond issue or the road tax represents outgo, instead of the means of increased income; and politicians, who desire "pork barrel" national legislation in order to get votes, rather than money to be spent upon roads.

Both classes of opposition are slowly but surely being steam-rollered out of existence, with the automobile in the role of steam roller.

How many cars in 1925?

Feeding a "boarder" hen is throwing money away and many folks say it will be against the law some day.

The necessity of providing enough timber to supply the country's future requirements and the Nation's inability to use the bulk of its cut-over or burned-over forest lands for agriculture are two problems now confronting the United States, declares the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Reforestation, both natural and artificial, on private and public lands and the full utilization of the farmers' woodlot are two of the main remedies.

Presbyterian Church News

Rev. L. M. Parker preached for us last Sunday. There was a large number present and the Mayor's sermon was full of inspiration. Next Sunday October 7th Rev. Z. H. Smith will preach. Rev. Smith's sermons are always helpful and we hope that a goodly number will be out to hear him.

Sabbath school as usual 9:30 A. M. Last Sunday our school was well attended. Come early and get it all. Rev. Parker visited the Brotherhood class last Sunday morning. It was surely a great treat to have Mr. Parker with us. He gave us some good points upon the lesson. We invite him back just as often as he can leave his own church.

The Brotherhood class will render a service at Taft next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M.

Last week ended the union services in the G. A. R. hall as well as the Wednesday evening prayer meetings so there will be prayer meeting at the church every Wednesday evening at 7:00 P. M. This week Rev. Smith will lead the prayer meeting.

There will be services Sunday evening at 7:00. The Christian Endeavor society will take the lead in these Sunday evening services until we secure a regular pastor. All the congregation as well as the general public are urged to attend the C. E. meetings. Listen young folks. Come out to these meetings and help in our C. E. choir. Last Sunday evening there were ten Boys and Girls in the choir and they give us some fine music. Especially was one number impressive. "Throughout the Life Line." Sung by Thelma and Velma May with the whole choir joining in on the chorus. Mr. R. W. Fry leads the C. E. meeting Sunday at 7 P. M. and a good meeting is promised. Remember this meeting takes the place of preaching services at the church until we secure a pastor so all are urged to come as the it were preaching. You are bound to get some good from it if you come. All are welcomed to all meetings.

Baptist Bible Class to Meet in G. A. R. Hall

Beginning with next Sunday Rev. Atchison's Bible class at the Baptist Sunday school will meet at the G. A. R. Hall at 9:30 and will continue to meet there every Sunday morning until further notice.

There has been a good attendance all during the summer months and now with the return of the tourists and now that have been away for the summer it is almost necessary to secure larger quarters.

Another reason for this move is the fact that beginning with next Sunday the class will take up for study the new course of Sunday School lessons known as the "Whole Bible Sunday School lessons" now being adopted by some of the largest Sunday Schools all over the United States. The object of the new series of lessons will be to get away from the "chap, skip and jump" method in studying the Bible and in contrast with this make a systematic study of the entire Bible book by book. The pastor and teacher of the class would also like to emphasize this fact that beginning with next Sunday's lesson we start with the study of Genesis, the first book of the Bible the subject being "A perfect creation." Scriptures Gen. first and second chapters.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all visitors and those not attending Sunday school elsewhere to meet with us in the Hall at 9:30. A blackboard will be used to illustrate the lesson and it will be the aim of the pastor to make the lesson as interesting that many that are not in the habit of attending Sunday school at present will be led to take up the systematic study of the Bible with us and unit with the class. The lesson next Sunday will be especially interesting to those that have been acquainted with the modern and popular theory of evolution in contrast with the Scriptural statements of the divine origin and creation of all things by an all wise and omnipotent God. Having a separate room, most of the hour will be devoted to the study of the lesson.

There will be a PUBLIC Baptismal service at the Baptist Church next Sunday evening. All of those who have recently united with the church are requested to be present. The mid-week Prayer meeting of the church will be held on Thursday evenings. During the winter months all evening services will begin at seven o'clock.

Hill section to the Southport Cattle extension of a road from the Pleasant Hill section to the Southport Cattle ranch. Mr. Boyce promised that property owners would build a fence along this road if the county would put it through.

J. S. Cadel appeared for the Candler Lumber Co., asking permission to close what was thought to be an old road at Campbell but learned that the particular road was never platted.

Commissioner Phillips wanted work started on a road from Holopaw on south to Kenansville, and the board called for bids for this work.

County Agent R. J. Gunn made a talk to the board, asking their cooperation in his work and promising good service to everyone in the county. He asked the proposition of holding a county fair be considered.

The Commissioner authorized the attorneys to accept settlement with the bond company in the matter of suit on bond for funds in Special Road and Bridge district No. 2 that were tied up when the State Bank of Kissimmee failed in 1920. Forty per cent dividend had been paid by the bank already.

The attorneys were instructed to prepare bonds for the road supervisor and constable guards to be filed for approval at the next meeting.

The commissioners authorized an expenditure of $200 to each county newspaper for publicity for the next three months.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Gladys Schofield—nee Johnson, died in Topeka, Kansas, after a lingering illness. She had been in failing health for almost two years. Thinking a change in climate would do her good she left St. Cloud for Kansas on the 19th day of June, not realizing her serious condition until after she reached Topeka.

She entered one of the best hospitals there and had excellent care, but after a thorough diagnosis it was seen that she had cancer of the gland, under her right arm, and we were told there was no hope for her—for there was no cure. Her husband left here Aug. 15th, expecting to bring her back home, but she had failed so rapidly that she was entirely too weak to undertake so long a journey.

Gladys Johnson was born in Topeka, Kansas, October 27, 1897 to Dr. S. A. and Mrs. Johnson.

Died Sept. 25, 1923, age 25 years 10 months and 28 days. In 1909 her mother died leaving her at a very tender age. In 1910 she came to St. Cloud to make her home with her mother's uncle, the late Dr. E. G. Farris and Miss Maud Gibbs, her aunt.

She attended the St. Cloud School, also High School. She was married to Earl Schofield Dec. 9, 1915. She united with the Baptist church when quite young and was a regular attendant to church and Sabbath school until her health failed. She was also a member of the St. Cloud Chapter of the Eastern Star. She leaves besides her husband a little girl, Florence, and a number of friends.

THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends for their kindnesses and sympathy shown my wife during her illness for their letters and cards containing words to cheer her last days, also the Eastern Star for their cards and flowers.

EARL SCHOFIELD and daughter.

Expressions of Sympathy from S. S. Class No. 4

We, the members of S. S. Class No. 4, desire, in this way, to express our sympathy with our classmate, Mrs. Josephine Woodward in the sad death of her husband, Geo. W. Woodward. We commend her to the Divine comforter given to all who have and serve our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

"There's a mist in the sunshine this morning,
There's a weight on the hearts today,
As we think of you in your sorrow,
And we wish there was aught we could say.
That would brighten the path you are treading,
That would lighten the burden you bear.
But there's comfort in this, that our Father
Has for each of His children a care."
